

Tupperware Straw Game

What you'll need:

- (1) Large Tupperware Tumbler (the bigger, the better)
- (20)+ Whistle Sipper Straws
- (20)+ Tiny Treasures Keychains or Magnets
- Colored Ribbon
- Pastel Paper

Directions:

First, cut the paper into 4x4 squares. On each square, write one of the following:

- "Try Again!"
- "Free Shipping!"
- "10% off Your Order"
- "You've Won a Free Piece of Tupperware!"
- "You Won a Tupperware Party"

Take these slips of paper and roll them to fit into the top of each Whistle Sipper Straw. Now tie a Keychain or Magnet with the colored ribbon to the top of each Whistle Sipper Straw.

Place the Whistle Sipper Straws into the Tupperware Tumbler in a bouquet fashion. Now you are ready to play the Straw Game!

As your demonstration comes to a close, hold up the tumbler and explain how the game works.

You can say something like:

I bet you all want to know what this is, right? Well, this is your chance to win a piece of Tupperware!

Inside one of these straws is a winning ticket that will allow you to take home this item tonight, absolutely free! Inside other straws you could win free shipping on the order you place tonight, or 10% off your order.

And best of all: inside half of these straws is a ticket that says you have won a Tupperware Party! My favorite!

This game is totally optional. You do not have to play if you don't want to.

I will start the tumbler here and pass it around. If you win the free Tupperware, I will follow through on my end of the deal, so please, follow through on your end of the deal too. Don't take a straw if you don't want to have a party!

Tupperware party games make it so easy to figure out which people are interested in dating. If they take a straw, even if they don't "win" a party, it means that they were willing to have one! Follow up!
